Gerald Pitts, Managing Director of A&P Defence will retire from the business on Tuesday 31st August after an illustrious 46 years with A&P.

We wish him every happiness for the next chapter in his life and would like to express our tremendous thanks to him for his tireless commitment to building A&P's Defence business. He leaves an impressive legacy – having played a pivotal role in A&P's award of the first RFA Cluster contract, BAE's OPV support contract, the MARS UKCCATS contract and more recently the In-Service Support contract which supports the RN and RFA vessels both in the UK and overseas.

From 31st August – Matt Weetch, Business Development Director for A&P Defence will take overall responsibility for the defence business, supported by Jonathan Green in his role as A&P's Cluster Director.

I am sure you will join me in congratulating Gerald on his impressive career at A&P and extending your thanks to him – he will be missed by us all. We also wish Matt and Jonathan all the very best as they continue to build a sustainable defence business.
